Daily Bulletin

Pledged to neither Side nor Party,
But established for the benefit of all.

THURSDAY, DEC. 4, 1890.

The people on the Plains will have their lights in due time. Mr. John Cassidy, Government electrician, is rapidly getting over the various circuits, putting them in order one after another. Portions of the town that never had their lights burning regularly under the Thurston administration will soon be well-lighted continuously and permanently.

Some time ago the BULLETIN had occasion to discuss the under-test oil question. If we remember rightly, it was just after the occurrence of several fires in different parts of Honolulu, which were reported, semi-officially at least, to have been caused by the use of inferior lamp oils. The result of agitation and investigation at that time led to the introduction and passage of an act regulating the matter and increasing the standard of test.

This law is now in force; and all oils landed in the Kingdom hereafter will be obliged to pass a fire test of one hundred and fifteen degrees, instead of one hundred degrees, as heretofore. But notwithstanding the new law the Marshal of the Kingdom has quite lately been called upon to reject under the old law some twenty-three thousand cases of under-test oil, attempted to be landed here by the Standard Oil Co. Unfortunately one thousand cases of this lot of oil, which included twenty-four thousand cases, the Marshal was forced to admit, as it passed the old standard of one hundred degrees by just four-tenths of a degree; and this oil, which is just as dangerous as the twenty-three thousand cases rejected, is now upon sale in the Hawaiian market. This entire lot of oil falls under the old law because it was in transit before the new law went into force.

The first lot of under-test oil rejected by the Marshal was a lot of fourteen thousand cases, which arrived on the bark Faust. This lot flashed at from one to two degrees under the standard. The second lot of ten thousand cases, of which nine thousand were rejected, fell about one degree short, under tests made by Dr. Stangenwald; the one thousand cases admitted only crossing the test line by the small fraction of a degree.

From all that can be learned the Standard Oil Co. is to blame for the attempted introduction of these under-test oils, rather than the merchants of Honolulu, to whom such cargoes have been consigned. The community, however, will now be better off with the protection of the new law thrown around them. All consignments of oil hereafter imported will be strictly tested by the new standard. It is, in the meantime, a duty we owe the public to warn all persons that there are at present at least one thousand cases of dangerous oils, manufactured by the Standard Oil Co., now on sale in the Kingdom.
